

Investment Review

The Hereford/DSM Large Cap Fund NAV appreciated 2.6% for the month of February compared to a 3.4% appreciation for the Russell 1000 Growth index and a 3.1% appreciation for the S&P500. At the end of February, the Fund was invested primarily in the health care, technology, consumer, business services, and financial services sectors, with a smaller weight in the materials sector.

During the month, the Fund lagged its benchmark, on a gross-of-expense basis, by 70 basis points. This was primarily the result of DSM's stock selections in the materials sector (Monsanto).

In February, the best performing positions in the portfolio were Cognizant Technology, Celgene, Apple, Cisco and Priceline. The worst performers in February were Western Union, Monsanto, Varian Medical, Qualcomm and Pharmaceutical Product Development.

During the month, the Fund exited positions in Pharmaceutical Product Development (a well-run company, but presently difficult to predict pharmaceutical trial activity), Western Union (inexplicably weak guidance) and Qualcomm (possibility that future strong volume growth is offset by continued handset price declines).

The Fund initiated positions in Altera (a maker of "programmable logic devices", versatile microchips are used in a huge variety of final products) and Expeditors International (a freight forwarder we have owned several times over many years, now seeing significantly growing volumes in both air and ocean freight).

At this point in early 2010, the economy appears to be moving along a track of steady, moderate improvement. The various economic indicators inconsistently perform ahead of, or behind expectations, keeping the markets volatile. That said, the 10,000 foot view is that the economy is moving in the right direction. How long it will take for housing prices to clearly bottom and then trend upward, or for the unemployment rate to begin trending down are good questions, and the "U-shaped" vs "V-shaped recovery camps continue their analysis and debate. The economic news year-to-date has been dominated by the dire economic situation in Greece, set against a backdrop of the other "PIGS" nations (Portugal, Italy, Greece and Spain) with similar indebtedness and uncompetitive economies. The near-bankrupt status of the "PIGS" countries puts a spotlight on the over-indebtedness and worsening fiscal situation of many developed nations. While all of this may well create a negative investment environment, it is highly unlikely that Greece or other similar countries would be "cut loose" from the IMF safety net and allowed to fail. The glass half-full view is that these situations are serious enough to force true reform which, over time, is good for the developed world and its economies.

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the LCG sub fund is to provide capital appreciation principally through investments in US-based growing corporations with market capitalizations generally above 2 billion dollars. These companies are chosen for their growth prospects, attractive returns, solid business fundamentals and intelligent management. The sub fund may, on an ancillary basis, invest in US-based companies with lower market capitalizations as well as in non-US based companies. The Compartment may invest in American Depository Receipts and American Depository Shares. The reference benchmark for this strategy is the Russell 1000 Growth Index.
