

April 2009 Investment Review

The Hereford/DSM Large Cap Fund appreciated 7.3% for the month of April compared to a 9.6% appreciation for the Russell 1000 Growth index and a 9.6% appreciation for the S&P500. The majority of the fund is invested in the health care, information technology, and services sectors. The weighted average P/E of the portfolio is 13.4x, which we feel is attractive relative to our long-term estimated earnings growth of 18%.

The stock market continues to rally on the belief that the worst of the economic decline is behind, and the expectation that moving forward the economy should slow its decline and then grow. We continue to believe that the economy is likely to produce positive growth numbers in the first quarter of 2010.

The market's rally has been led by those sectors that are most vulnerable to a severe economic contraction. As worries about a possible depression just a few months ago passed, banks, housing companies, deep cyclicals, energy and retailers, to name a few, all rallied substantially from their lows. Needless to say, these are sectors of the marketplace in which we generally do not invest, and that is in large part the reason for our recent underperformance.

The stability of the financial system had been a primary worry for many investors, and in fact was likely the catalyst for much of the market's decline. Recently capital adequacy analysis has been performed by the regulators, and while the results are not yet fully public, confidence is returning to this sector.

During the month of April, we started a position in Expeditors International. This is a company we have held in the past. It is arguably the leading "freight forwarder" in the country. It places freight for a fee on carriers, but owns no trucks, ships or planes itself. With no-debt balance sheet and piles of cash and huge free cash flow, its future earnings are driven by global trade and its ability to continue to gain market share. No other new positions were initiated. We did not entirely sell any positions either.

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the LCG sub fund is to provide capital appreciation principally through investments in US-based growing corporations with market capitalizations generally above 2 billion dollars. These companies are chosen for their growth prospects, attractive returns, solid business fundamentals and intelligent management. The sub fund may, on an ancillary basis, invest in US-based companies with lower market capitalizations as well as in non-US based companies. The Compartment may invest in American Depository Receipts and American Depository Shares. The reference benchmark for this strategy is the Russell 1000 Growth Index.
