Manager's Commentary

The strong performance of mid cap stocks in our portfolio contributed to good April performance. We strongly believe the outperformance of selective mid cap companies over large cap stocks will continue.

Bin Yuan's portfolio holdings are well positioned for the current growth cycle, as seen by solid earnings growth in 2020 and Q1 2021.

4,290 companies listed on the Shanghai and Shenzhen stock exchanges released their 2020 annual results and Q1 results by the end of April. Net profit growth of A-share listed companies increased 5.4% YoY in 2020, and saw 11.8% annualized growth in Q1 2021 compared to Q1 2019. Our portfolio holdings net profits increased 32% in 2020, and saw 32% annualized growth in Q1 2021 compared to Q1 2019. Our holdings showed strong performance and industry leadership well above the market.
